PATHWAYS

TREATMENT CENTER

This month we are focusing on MOMS and I happen to know a lot of really great ones. Happy belated Mother's Day to all you mindful, researching, advocating, gluten-removing, reflex integrating, framing, scaffolding and spotlighting moms.

You are the most intelligent, fiercely loving, caring and dynamic people on earth. I am honored to know you and learn through your wonderful children.

Don't miss the free workshop this Thursday. Details below.

Celebrating Moms

In honor of Mother's Day this month I'm offering a free reflex integration session for moms! I know so many selfless and dedicated moms are reading this and I'm happy to encourage you to take a little time for yourself. I am already hearing positive feedback from the mothers who have had their free sessions. All you need to do is claim a spot on my calendar with the word "Mom" in the notes. Here's my calendar!

RDI from a Mother's Perspective

Our blog post this month was written by Sara, an RDI mom. She shares a video documenting her family's first year of progress with RDI. "You can almost literally see the wall between my son and I in the first video. You most certainly can feel it. And in the second video? There is love, connection, and friendship." It's always a good idea to pause and reflect on the progress you've made. Click here to read more about how focusing on dynamic skills and becoming guides for their son has improved their family's quality of life and strengthened their relationship with him.

Our Team Approach.

My team provides autism consulting including dynamic thinking, social engagement, and reciprocal communication, reflex integration and exercises (MNRI), developmentally based speech and occupational therapies, and educational consulting including IEP support. You can pick and choose what works for you and your family! Click here to learn more about the team.

Workshop THIS Thursday!

Join me to learn all about staying regulated and what it means for us and our children in this month's FREE class at Pathways! After the presentation there will be plenty of time for open discussion in an intimate setting.
